Costs of Lasting Powers of Attorney

No one likes to think about losing the ability to manage their own affairs, it can happen. Age, disability or injury can cause serious difficulties for people, their families and carers. The legislation around health and care support services is constantly changing.

If a lack of capacity means that some or all of the important decision making might involve either a local authority or the Court of Protection, we can help you or your loved ones make arrangements that avoid these remote decision makers being involved.

We can help you through this process.
